

Patrolman Injured in Arrest Try

A patrolman was slightly injured and a 34-year-old man in temporarily serious condition when the two men struggled after a woman told police the man had assaulted her children.

Patrolman Thomas Gibbons, treated for a hand laceration, said Gary Pough had fallen and injured his head while evading arrest, then rose and struck him.

During the ensuing struggle the two men received further injuries. Pough, 3346 Leland, was held for assault and battery to a police officer.

Police said Marie Nelson, 29, 9338 Cresswell, had complained that Pough had assaulted her two children.
